ULTIMATUM TO HUERTA

WILSON TELLS HIM HE MUST GET DOWN AND OUT—NO ANSWER
RETURNED YET.

City of Mexico, Nov. 3.—President Huerta has been told he must resign the Presidency of Mexico without loss of time and that he must not leave as his successor Gen. Aureliano Blanquet, his Minister of War, or any other member of his official family or the unofficial coterie whom he might be expected to control.

This ultimatum from Washington was conveyed to President Huerta through his private secretary, Senor Rabago, by Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge d'Affaires, acting under instructions from the state department.

City of Mexico, Nov. 3.—Senor Rabago presented the notification from Washington to his chief late Sunday, but up to this evening President Huerta had returned no answer and as far as could be learned had guarded its contents from almost all of his official and intimate counselors.

Those who learned of the Washington note regard Gen. Huerta's position as one in which he will be forced to give one of two answers—refusal point blank to comply with the demand, possibly going so far as to hand the diplomatic representative his passports, or the elimination of himself officially. Those most intimate with the president insist that the latter course will not be taken for many reasons, chief among which is that such action would be tantamount to submission to the revolutionists.

Official Mexico is no longer in doubt that the Washington Administration favors the revolutionists' cause, and is convinced that this is the means adopted by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to assist Carranza to win.

Gen. Huerta summoned to the National palace tonight the diplomatic corps, but for what purpose was not revealed. Three of the Ministers, those of Germany, Norway and Russia, were absent. They have been in Vera Cruz, where they were in conference with President Wilson's representative, John Lind, who is understood to be fully conversant with the latest representations from Washington.

Changes in the military situation throughout the country today included, according to reports, the advance of the revolutionists to attack Zacatecas, but the government believes that the garrison there is sufficiently strong to resist an attack successfully.

Queretaro, capital of the state of the same name, on the main line of the National Railway south of San Luis Potosi, is surrounded by revolutionists and practically in a state of siege.

North of San Luis Potosi a new method has been adopted to prevent the operation of trains. Placards addressed to railroad employees have been posted notifying them they will be hanged if they attempt to run the trains. As a result the men are refusing to take them out.

REV. T. L. RIPPEY MAKES FORTUNE

LUCKY MINE STRIKE NETS FORTUNE
ADA MAN A ROUND
$100,000.

Muskogee, Ok., Nov. 4.—Word has been received here that Rev. T. L. Rippey, formerly pastor of St. Paul's church, has made $100,000 in mining transactions in Montana. Rippey went to Montana three years ago for his health and the health of his family. He was assigned to a pastorate in that state near the principal mining region. By the right sort of investments he came in possession of valuable stock that made him a snug fortune.

Rev. Rippey filled several pastorates in Oklahoma and Texas before going to Montana. For some years he was secretary of the Oklahoma conference of his church. His father, Rev. W. M. P. Rippey of Oklahoma City, is one of the best known Methodist preachers in the southwest. A brother, E. A. Rippey, is professor of history in the University Preparatory school at Tonkawa, Okla.

Christmas Ship Sails Tomorrow.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 4.—The last transport that will reach the Island of Guam and the Philippines before Christmas will sail from this port tomorrow and Col. John T. Knight, the local depot quartermaster of the U. S. army and his assistants are almost overwhelmed with work owing to the enormous number of Christmas gifts for the American soldiers in the far East which have accumulated here during the past week or so. Two years ago the Christmas transport did not stop at Guam, and it was necessary to postpone the Christmas festivities on the island for one month. This was due to an epidemic of smallpox, on account of which the transport was not allowed to land its cargo of gifts.

A BUZZARD STORY

FROM STONEWALL

It may sound somewhat fishy, but nevertheless it is true.

Twelve years ago, Garland Babb then of Hartford, Ark., but now living three miles west of Stonewall, was hunting on Poteau mountain and captured a buzzard. He wrote a note, placed it in a small bottle, tied it to the fowl then turned it loose.

On the third of this month, B. F. Stewart, who lives four miles north of Stonewall found the buzzard hung to a wire fence. Noticing the bottle he opened it and found this note enclosed:

"Hartford, Ark.—I am now on Poteau mountain, caught this buzzard on her nest. If anyone finds this please write me and tell me where you found this note. This the 9th day of June, 1901. Garland Babb Hartford, Ark."

When seen, Mr. Babb remembered the time and writing, and said that he will always keep the note.—Stonewall News.

Oklahoma Pioneer Dies.

Roff, Ok., Nov. 3.—W. H. Morris, aged 73 years, a pioneer settler of this country, died at the home of his son in Madill and was buried here today. He is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 4.—Alleging the absence of P. O. Hill and wife, material witnesses, would injure their case, private prosecutors of Lee Weatherford, Bill Ratliff and Roy Eastus, charged with arson, presented a motion for continuance in the Forty-seventh district court at Weatherford Monday, and Judge McKinsey set the cases for trial on May 4, 1914.

Judge McKinsey ordered a fine of $500 entered against Hill and his wife. Attachments were ordered for them, and when located, if they ever should be, they are to be placed under $200 bond for appearance next May.

The private prosecutors also asserted that B. H. Fulkerson of Fort Worth, but temporarily residing at Eureka Springs, Ark., was a material witness and mentioned him in their motion for the continuance.

Hill and his wife were in Fort Worth Saturday afternoon, and in the office of the private prosecutors. Attorneys Cummings and Doyle, both of the prosecution, informed the court of this, and, further, that Hill had said that he and his wife were going to Mineral Wells over Sunday and would be on hand for the trial Monday morning.

The postponement caused little surprise in Weatherford, as it was generally understood the cases might be dismissed.

CONSIDERING INDIAN PROBATE MATTERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Commissioner Cato Sells held a conference with the national attorneys of the Five Civilized Tribes and Superintendent Kelsey of Union Agency on Wednesday night concerning Indian minor probate conditions in Oklahoma. He has since requested the principal chiefs and governors of all the tribes, and Reford Bond, the new national attorney for the Chickasaws, also Federal attorney Linbaugh and probate attorney Semple, to come to Washington for a further conference with him next Monday, when the tribal attorneys and Superintendent Kelsey will also be present.

It is understood that Commissioner Sells is industriously seeking all of the dependable information obtainable and that this is preliminary to aggressive action looking toward the accomplishment of reforms in this apparently very unsatisfactory situation.

Commissioner Sells regards the Indian minor probate conditions as one of the most important and pressing problems affecting Indian affairs in Oklahoma.

30 PER CENT VOTE NOT NECESSARY

Guthrie, Ok., Nov. 3.—District Judge Huston of Guthrie holds as unconstitutional the law's requirement that 30 per cent of the votes of a city or district shall be cast to make legal an election to vote additional levies for the support of common schools. This is the first interpretation of the Oklahoma law and an appeal to the state supreme court is contemplated. Huston gave the decision in the Stillwater election case, wherein an injunction was sought against an additional levy because 30 per cent of the qualified voters did not vote.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

We kindly ask that our advertisers bring in their changes of copy not later than 12 o'clock. We cannot insure change of ads where they come in later than this hour, because to do so throws the paper late in coming out, which we desire to avoid at all times.

The News would respectfully suggest that a good move for some ladies club of Ada to make would be to launch a movement to establish a rest room for tired mothers and children who come to town to trade. Standing around a store a good part of the day, often with two or three small children, is enough to wear out the strongest constitution. Other places have provided rest rooms and they have proved a great boon. Why can't Ada do likewise?

Now that Wilson has laid the law down to Huerta it remains to be seen how he will enforce his order to the Mexican president to make himself scarce. However, the chances are that he will quietly furnish the revolutionists with supplies of arms and ammunition and they will do the rest. That course will be cheaper than sending an American army down there to do the bloody work.

For years the Republican papers stood on their hind legs and howled every time a reduction of the tariff was mentioned, claiming that it would mean destruction to the nation. Even during the time the Underwood bill was under discussion in congress they predicted all sorts of calamities. The bill became a law but no bad results followed, and now they are pretending to laugh at the Democrats, claiming that it will not affect prices anyway. Funny how suddenly their viewpoint changed.

The regular Democrats of middle Tennessee have lost the only large paper they had in that section, the Nashville Democrat, the organ of that faction of the party, established two years ago, having turned its toes to the daisies, leaving the newspaper field to the independents. The tide of reform, which is driving the lawless saloon from Nashville evidently knocked the main pillar of strength from the paper and it collapsed. Two dailies are all that ever could thrive in Nashville, anyway.

LAST CALL

Sometime ago the News invited all the Ada churches to send in a sketch of their organizations, for use in the booster edition of the News, but the four churches in North Ada have not brought anything in. The finishing touches are being put on the edition and if these have representation they will have to hurry up. It costs nothing but a little time and effort.

"IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE."

Famous Players' Four-Part Feature.

It is several months since picture lovers have seen on the screen Mary Pickford on a new film. In this refined melodrama they will see Little Mary in a new light. "In the Bishop's Carriage," from the book of Miriam Michelson, is a crook play; nevertheless its treatment is so artistic, so delicate, so finished, that it will please every division of society. In its delineation of the character of the charity girl who falls out of the clutches of the virago in the charity house into the hands of the thief-out of the frying pan into the fire, as it were—and then under the influence of a man animated by honest motives, the picture is more than interesting; it is instructive. Nance's attempts to reform, her failures, and her final triumph over wrong will be followed with the closest attention. Dave Wall, as Tom Dorgan, the crook, gives a splendid performance. His work is restrained at times, yet showing, when the occasion justifies it, every ounce of force necessary to carry over a situation. He has much to do, and it is all well done. George Moss as the bishop will be enjoyed. His consternation at the discovery of a pretty young woman in his carriage makes a delightful bit of comedy. Howard Missimer is the plain-clothesman. What little he has to do is well done, as it is bound to be.

Thrilling situations abound; situations legitimately thrilling, made so by the art of the author and the skill of the director and the fine acting of the players.—Dramatic Mirror.

F. B. Gay, traveling salesman for the S. & S. Packing house, was in the city today. He informed the News that he expects to move here from Oklahoma City next week and become one of the fine bunch of drummers who make their home here. The News welcomes him to Ada, for every traveling man is a booster.

This evening the Grand will present a three reel program as follows: "The Moonshiner," a western story of deep interest, "For the Sins of Another," and "His Crazy Job." See the regular ad for other good one that are coming soon.

INDIAN SECRET SOCIETIES

(by E. A. McMillan)

Since Marquette, in 1672, gave to the world the account of his discovery, the existence of a secret sacred ceremony to a few of the tribes of America—has been well authenticated. That it has an antiquity far remote from 1672 is easily proven, and that it reached a high degree of efficiency can be judged by the wonderful Hako ceremony of the Pawnees.

Probably no cult or secret society among the Indians was so elaborate, so thoroughly systematized and so universally revered as the Hako. Often the ceremonial extended over six days. It was divided into twenty sections or degrees. It was based upon a belief in a Deity, was celebrated to promote life, plenty and offspring to the tribe and to establish a bond of friendship and peace between clans or tribes. Every element of the ceremony partook of the spiritual and was far removed from war and the war and warpath. It was followed closely by every tribe and in no case was a variation of the rite known from its original intent. To the Indians its place as a society had a firm hold upon their ideals as the Masonic fraternity has today up the civilized world. The beauties of its ritual, the sweetness of its melodies and its profoundly spiritual aspect has been the wonder and admiration of every student of the rites.

A brief description of the degrees follows:

First—Making the Hako, or the prayer for offspring. The ceremony described an ideal home without children and prays for their coming, and their opening litany was

"We heed as unto Thee we call,
Oh, send to us Thy potent aid!
Help us, Oh, Holy place above!
We heed as unto Thee we call.

Second—The selection of the Son. The Pawnees believed there was an invisible world accessible to man, but that the selection of the Son was not left exclusively to the father. Corn was considered the mother while the eagle represented the father and the song in this degree was rendered to mother corn.

Third—Sending the messengers. Four messengers were selected by the father among his relatives. They, typically, were supposed to make the long journey to the invisible world and their choice and ceremonial consecration in the fathers lodge was an elaborate ceremony.

Fourth—Giving life to the Sacred Objects. The full consecration of the sacred objects of the tribe consummated near the chiefs lodge in the open and representing the male and female elements of the tribe and when consecrated placed on a pole. The objects were corn, feathered stems and a wild cat skin.

Fifth—Mother corn asserts authority. A series of songs were sung and water was exemplified as a lesser power although one of the unseen, for they knew not from whence it came nor whether it went, but that mother corn needed it in growth.

Sixth—The Messengers for the Son received. This was exemplified by the camp near the ceremony when the Hako received the messengers.

Seventh—Touching the threshold of the Hako lodge. Exemplifying the cordial reception of the messengers by the Hako and the giving permission to enter.

Eighth—A public degree. Heralds were sent to all the children and all were fed by the father, typifying the good news received from the Hako.

Ninth—Prayers to the invisible. The Hako makes four circuits of the public lodge and as he was passing out the chiefs took him up and carried him to his lodge during which all engaged in prayer to the invisible.

Tenth—The birth of dawn. All retire except one who represents the Son. He watches the Hako as he rests till the dawn of the morning when he silently and stealthily returns to his cabin. It is believed that the Hako is in the invisible world during sleep and must not be disturbed.

Eleventh—Chant to the Sun. Being a recognition of the male element in life.

Twelfth—The vision. It is believed the father has had bound unto him a Son through the aid of Hako in the tenth degree which was prefigured in the vision.

Thirteenth—The sacred feast of corn. The third day this degree was part of the eighth and a meal given the children by the father.

Fourteenth—The vision of their ancestors. The departed fathers were invoked to come from their invisible world and recognize the man who was to be made a Son.

Fifteenth—A secret ceremony—the flocking of the birds. This degree has been secretly guarded. It began at sunset and no one was admitted but the chiefs, fathers and Son.

Sixteenth—Seeking the child. Conferred at dawn and typified the seeking of the Son by the chief and his assistants and when certain symbolic rites of birth were performed.

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

Seventeenth—Touching the child.

On reaching the lodge where the Son was detained the child was seated on the holy altar and prepared for the gifts that were to be offered it.

Eighteenth—Making the most of the promise fulfilled.

Nineteenth—Call to the children. The presentation of the children. The ponies presented were all led by children. This degree typifies the tie between the father and children.

Twentieth—Blessing the children. The final ceremony of the presentation, by the Hako, of the Son to the father and the public thanks to the children.

The degrees were peculiarly adapted to impress the mind of the people and win their confidence and affection. They emphasized, on the one hand, man's dependence on the supernatural for all the gifts of life, and on the other, his dependence on the family tie for the gifts of peace and happiness.

New Laws Become Effective in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—Several of the new laws passed by the last legislature went into effect today and two of them attract particular attention owing to their somewhat unusual character. One of the laws, which will be of interest mainly to travelers who like to drink something stronger than grape juice or lemonade, prohibits the selling of any alcoholic liquor on trains within the boundaries of the state.

The other law is aimed at the movies and provides for a strict supervision of moving picture shows by a Board of Censors, headed by J. A. Maddox. Under the new law no pictures will be permitted which show a person in the act of committing a crime. If any crime is necessary to the action of the plot it may only be suggested, not actually shown. It will be proper, for instance to show pictures of a man with a "jag" but it will not be permitted to show the man in the act of acquiring the "load." Women dancing in tights or in diaphanous apparel and other vulgarities will also be barred and there will be no more sensational displays of attacks upon policemen, train robbers, cracking of safes, etc.

The Railroads of the World.

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 4.—The Central Bureau of International Transportation has just issued its annual report containing interesting statistics for the year 1912. According to the report the total length of railroad lines in the world at the end of the year 1912 was 1,057,000 kilometres, an increase over the previous year of 27,663 kilometres. The increase in mileage in 1912 was great by 4,459 kilometres than that in 1911.

Europe had 324,899 kilometres of railways at the close of 1912; America 541,028; Asia, 106,011, and Australia 22,501 kilometres.

The greatest increase in railway mileage during the year 1912 was recorded in the United States, where 6-

687 kilometres were added, while the increase in mileage for the same year in Europe was only 4000 kilometres.

Of the countries of Europe, Germany leads with a total of 61,936 kilometres; then follow: Russia with 61,078; France with 50,232; Austria-Hungary with 44,820; Great Britain with 37,640; Italy with 17,228; Spain with 15,097; Sweden with 14,098 and Belgium with 8,660 kilometres. A kilometre is about six-tenths of a mile.

PUZZLES, PAINT and PROMISES

Many dealers sell their Pianos through puzzles, paint and promises. The use of Ps in this description is a happenstance and not purposely alliterative. While these Ps sell many Pianos, there are two Ps that really measure Piano value, viz:

PROOF and PERFORMANCE

Paint's appearance, like beauty, is only skin deep, and time uncovers the deception. Certainly your first study in buying a Piano should be to know who's who, what's what, and whose promises are most trustworthy. A careful study and investigation of the Jenkins plan will show you much on this point.

The Pianos we have brought to Ada are the same makes of Pianos that have made the house of Jenkins famous throughout the southwest, and our record of over 35 years of honest Piano dealings and the thousands of customers satisfied is the proof that our service is the best. Why take chances elsewhere when you are sure to be satisfied here.

The cotton market has varied only a trifle today. The election in New York made today a holiday there and there was no market from that place.

Commissioner G. W. Montgomery, who was here today attending the regular meeting of the county board, stated that he estimated the amount of cotton around Vanoss yet to be picked at about twenty-five per cent of the total crop.

J. N. Morgan of Ardmore, was in the city Monday evening to attend the meeting of the W. O. W. Several new members were initiated at this meeting a few new ones balloted on.

The county treasurer's office is picking up at a lively rate. Many are settling back taxes and some are coming in with their dues for the coming year.

The weather man says it will be unsettled tomorrow. Evidently he is afraid to make a forecast more definite than that. For sometime past, however, such a guess has usually meant rain.

Attention Royal Arch Masons.

There will be a special convocation of Ada Chapter No. 26, R. A. M. this evening at 7 o'clock for work in the Mark and Past Master degrees. All Royal Arch Masons cordially invited. F. C. SIMS, H. P.

To give your hair that gloss and lustre and wavy silky-softness, use Harmony Hair Beautifier. It takes away the dull dead look of the hair, and makes it bright—turns the stringiness into softness—overcomes the oily odors and leaves a sweet true rose fragrance—makes the hair easier to put up neatly and easier to keep in place. It is just exactly what it is named—a hair beautifier, and whether your hair is ugly now or beautiful, it will improve its appearance. You'll be proud of and delighted with the results, or your money back. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change the color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure, liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, because it gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Alabama Wants More Cattle Raisers. Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 4.—Alabama's "biggest and best" land congress opened here today and there is every reason to think that the prediction on the advertising matter will materialize. Gov. O'Neal this morning urged the delegates to use every legitimate means of increasing the number of farmers in the state. There is room for thousands of intelligent, stock-raising farmers in the state. The keynote of the three days' congress is certain to be the question of increasing the amount of live stock on Alabama's farms. When the South is more fully recognized as holding the eye to the nation's meat supply, land values will soar, according to the judgment of most of those present. Joseph O. Thompson, the largest farm operator in the state presided at today's session.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and no salves have long been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Ramsey Drug Company, Phone 6. A. in Oklahoma

Dr. Helmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years. It will take away the itch the instant you apply it."

In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

PROVISIONS OF NEW FEDERAL GAME LAW

For many years there has been a movement on foot to have the federal government take over the protection of migratory birds. The organized effort which was made by various sports men's associations, and other societies and individuals in all parts of the country, ended in the passage of the Weeks-McLean bill, which was signed by President Taft on March 4, 1913. This bill provides that the regulations for the protection of migratory birds should be formulated and open and closed seasons should be fixed by the department of agriculture. This has been done and the new regulations went into effect on October 1, after being approved by President Wilson.

The real value of the federal law is that the country is divided into two zones according to the migration of birds and the seasons have been set with this idea in view. This gives more uniformity than formerly, when it was impossible to get any concerted action by different legislatures.

Closed Season Five Years.
The new federal migratory bird law provides a five year closed season on the following game birds.

Bandtail pigeons, little brown, sandhill and whooping cranes, swans, curlews, and all shore birds, except the black breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jack snipe, woodcock and the greater and lesser yellowlegs.

It has heretofore been lawful to hunt the above birds in season in this state and for the reason the new federal laws are of particular interest to Oklahoma sportsmen at this time, as they supersede state laws wherever there is a conflict.

Closed Seasons.
The new federal law provides a closed season in Oklahoma on waterfowl, rails, woodcock and shore birds as follows:

Rails—The closed season on rails, coots and gallinules shall be between December 1 and September 1 next following.

Woodcock—The closed season on woodcock shall be between January 1 and November 1.

DAY IN DISTRICT COURT

District court convened this morning and disposed of two or three divorce cases, and heard the motion by the county attorney to declare the bond of Mart Lancaster forfeited. The defense produced eight affidavits of his death from Dr. Hardy, the undertaker who embalmed the body, sheriff, barber who shaved the corpse, and others to the effect that the man who died was none other than Mart Lancaster. The defense offered to produce other evidence and suggested that the body might be exhumed and set the matter entirely at rest. The court agreed to the request for more time and gave the defense until November 11 to produce the additional evidence.

In view of the depleted condition of the court fund the criminal docket will not be taken up until January 20. The non-jury docket will be disposed of this week and on Monday the jury civil docket will be called.

DUCK HUNTERS WERE FOOLED BY DECOYS

A duck hunter, who has been visiting the country club lake occasionally tells a good one on Prof. C. W. Briles and another hunter whose name he did not know. He states that himself and others had placed some decoys in a favorable place and were behind a blind waiting for some real ducks to come along. Prof. Briles and his companion saw the decoys and thinking they were the real articles, made haste to pull out after them in a boat. Prof. Briles in his eagerness hiring a gun from D. R. Robb, the keeper. The men behind the blind were almost within shooting distance and then made their presence known, but some stray shot came their way.

Nat C. Goodwin as "Fagin" in "Oliver Twist"

Apropos of the recent Charles Dickens Centenary and the wide-spread interest it attracted throughout the entire English speaking world, it is of more than passing interest to note the coming to this city of the motion pictures of Nat C. Goodwin as "Fagin" and an all-star cast in "Oliver Twist" as presented for an entire year in New York. These pictures will be shown at the De Sota on Monday, November 10th and Manager Chauncey feels confident that they will attract widespread local interest. This display must not be confounded with the ordinary moving picture exhibition. Rather is it a revelation in this form of entertainment occupying as it does an entire evening in display.

To Stop Scaling of Psoriasis This Troublesome Skin Disease Promptly Checked by a very Simple Attention.

Classed with eczema, psoriasis has been considered one of the most obstinate of skin diseases. A lady in Lexington, Ky., says that before she began using S. S. S. the disease broke out at frequent intervals where she thought it cured. But by getting her blood under control by the influence of S. S. S. psoriasis entirely disappeared and there was never again the slightest sign of it.

Like nearly all skin diseases, psoriasis is primarily due to impaired blood.

The skin is but a network of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 155 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

The total membership of the Cigar-makers' International is 48,457.

More than three million women in the United States are employed in other than household occupation.

Labor organizations of California are dissatisfied with the alien land act claiming that it is not strong enough.

A workman's compensation law was enacted at the recent session of the legislature in Iowa. The widow's pension law is also to become effective in that state.

Wages paid to farm hands in Ireland have gone up considerably in the last few years, but are still extremely low according to American standards.

According to statistics compiled by the United Mine Workers' Journal, three men were killed in the mines of the unorganized states, as against one mine laborer killed in the organized states.

According to the report published by the Bureau of Mines, there were 195 men killed in and about the coal mines of the United States during May, 1913, as compared with 150 during the same month in 1912.

Thirty-six states now forbid the employment of children under the age of fourteen years in factories, and twenty-one states limit the hours of labor for children under the age of sixteen years to eight hours a day.

Wm. D. Mahon, International President of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Electric Railway Employees, has been appointed a member of the Detroit Municipal Street Railway Board of Commissioners.

Fourteen states now have laws penalizing mothers. Illinois was the first to pass such a law, followed by California, Colorado, Washington, Utah, South Dakota, Idaho, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Missouri.

Women employed in the textile industry in Germany are in a majority over the men, there being 400,000 females as against 371,000 men. In the clothing industry the women outnumber the men, there being 228,000 women to 97,000 men employed.

Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, has been appointed recently by the President of the United States as one of the commissioners to represent the American government at the London conference on safety at sea.

The Musicians' Union of San Francisco has amended its laws as to funeral detail. The members will hereafter be chosen in alphabetical order to attend funerals of deceased members and will be paid $3 for the service. A failure to attend or to furnish a substitute will entail a penalty not to exceed $5.

A CORRECTION

Through a mistake in compiling the telephone directory, Drs. English and English are listed as Chiropractors instead of Osteopaths. We wish to correct this error, there being no relation between the two schools of practice.

The standard school of Osteopathy (those that are recognized by the American Osteopathic Association) are located at Chicago, Kirksville, Mo., Philadelphia, Boston, Des Moines, Kansas City and Los Angeles. Each have a course either of three years of nine months each or of four years of eight months, with a faculty equal in every respect to the faculty of the best medical school, and all subjects taught in the leading medical schools are taught in the standard schools of Osteopathy, except materia medica therapeutics. These two subjects are replaced by two branches even more scientific and deep—"Osteopathic Therapeutics and Mechanics" and the "Basic Principles of Osteopathy." The medical student is given more work in pharmacy and various side issue theoretical specialties than the Osteopathic student, but the student of Osteopathy gets immeasurably more through practical training in anatomy—in the body itself.

The standard schools of Osteopathy teach both minor and major surgery. Minor surgery is taught so that the Osteopathic graduate is as capable as the graduates of any medical school to handle minor surgical cases, major surgery is taught by witnessing operations in clinics at the hands of skillful surgeons who give thorough explanations of these operations while they are being performed, in order that the graduates will be able to recognize major surgical conditions when they arise in practice.

The success of Osteopathy has, during the past twenty years attracted many inquirers into the field of drugless healing, but to those interested investigation as to the requirements of these various schools will enable them to judge as to the competency of Fuller's Earth.

A report on fuller's earth, by Jefferson H. H. H. of the United States Geological Survey, has been published as an advance chapter from Mineral Resources for 1912, and copies will be sent to interested persons free on application to the Director of the Survey at Washington, D. C. The value of the fuller's earth mined in 1912 in the United States was $305,522, and Florida was the principal producer.

The principal use of fuller's earth in this country is in the bleaching, clarifying, or filtering of fats, greases and oils. The common practice with mineral oils is to dry the earth carefully after it has been ground to 30 to 60 mesh and run it into long cylinders, through which the crude, black mineral oils are allowed to percolate slowly. As a result the oil that first comes out is perfectly water white and much thinner than that which follows. The oil is allowed to continue percolating through the earth until the color reaches a certain maximum shade.

With the vegetable oils the process is radically different. The oil is heated beyond the boiling point of water in large tanks from 5 to 10 per cent of its weight of fuller's earth is then added and the mixture is vigorously stirred and then filtered off through bag filters. The coloring matter remains with the earth the filtered oil being of a pale straw-color, provided the operation has been conducted with sufficient care.

Suit has been brought in the courts of Rhode Island by an ex-prisoner to recover from prison labor contractors wages for his labor during imprisonment. The suit is based on the clause of the State's Constitution which prohibits slavery. Should the case be successful it is believed it will do away with the contract system in the prisons not only in Rhode Island, but in every other state where it exists.
